Master of Arts in Global Techno Entrepreneurship (M.G.T.E.)

The Masters in Global Techno-Entrepreneurship (M.G.T.E.) Program is thoughtfully designed to equip students with the essential capabilities required for launching ventures that effectively tackle global challenges. This program affords students the opportunity to foster dynamic international careers in entrepreneurship and innovation.

The fundamental aim of this program is to cultivate a global entrepreneurial mindset among students, empowering them to approach intricate problems with innovative solutions. Through a comprehensive curriculum, students bolster their proficiency in modern technologies and acquire the necessary expertise to forge pioneering careers in global ventures.

Situated within the framework of the International Graduate School, the Global Techno-Entrepreneurship Program serves as a versatile platform for students to seamlessly transition into innovative ventures. It also caters to individuals seeking to re-enter their respective fields armed with the requisite knowledge and skill sets. Furthermore, this major presents an optimal choice for those contemplating a career in private equity, management consulting, or contemplating entry into small and medium-sized enterprises poised for substantial growth.

Given the considerable demand for global tech entrepreneurs, our graduates can anticipate the following prospects and opportunities:

- IT specialists or consultants
- Financial technology analyst
- Career in research
- Entrepreneurs
- Venture capitalists
- University instructor

“Studying Global Technology Entrepreneurship at Namseoul University was an incredible journey that broadened my understanding of the fast-evolving tech landscape. The program offered a perfect mix of cutting-edge theory and practical application, equipping me with the skills to innovate and launch ventures in a global context. South Korea, known for its tech advancements, provided an ideal backdrop for this learning. The professors, with their expertise in both technology and business, guided me to think critically and entrepreneurially. Through hands-on projects and exposure to Korea’s booming tech ecosystem, I gained valuable insights into how global startups thrive. Namseoul University gave me the tools and confidence to turn ideas into action—an experience I will carry with me throughout my career.”

-Ester, Tanzania

“My months in NSU have truly been beyond expectation. As a current second term student in the MGTE, my thirst for learning had truly been enlightening and enriching. The diversity of cultures opened my eyes to new experiences which help me cultivate hidden focus and refined unknown confidence. NSU International Graduate School has reshaped my visions to a more tangible thread of possibility which drives me to be better each and every day.”

-Ace, Philippines

“As a master’s student in the MGTE program at Namseoul University, I’ve had an enriching experience. The program offers a diverse range of courses taught in English, ensuring accessibility for international students. What stands out is the vibrant diversity among students, fostering a global perspective. Moreover, the administration and professors go above and beyond to support students, demonstrating a genuine commitment to our success. This holistic approach, combining academic excellence and student well-being, makes this university an outstanding choice for anyone pursuing an MGTE degree.”

Master of Arts in International Business (M.I.B.)

The Masters in International Business (M.I.B.) Program is destined to prepare international students for careers in the global business environment. The program focuses on the complexities of international business, including the legal, economic, and political aspects of conducting business across international borders. Students will develop a deep understanding of trade policies, regulations, and practices as well as the cultural, social, and ethical issues that arise in international business.

Through coursework, students will gain the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in a whole range of international business careers, including trade policy development, import/export management, international marketing, and global supply chain management. In addition, a wide variety of courses in all fields of international business are offered, including business, management, trade, international marketing, and operation management.

As the world market is rapidly integrating, companies are facing new opportunities and actively pursuing global business activities. International business is a popular field among students, as it offers opportunities for career advancement in a global market. After completing this program, graduates have the chance to work for international companies with various career opportunities including but not limited to:

- Business development manager
- Business analyst
- Product manager
- Trade manager
- International sales
- Marketing manager
- Economists

“Studying International Business at Namseoul University has been an incredible experience. The professors are highly knowledgeable and supportive, always encouraging us to excel in our academic and professional goals. The IGS department goes above and beyond to assist international students, making us feel at home despite being far from our own countries. The opportunity to engage with students from diverse cultural backgrounds has enriched my learning experience, broadening my global perspective. Namseoul University provides a perfect environment for both academic growth and personal development, and I am proud to be part of this vibrant community.”

-Malsha, Sri Lanka

“My time at Namseoul University has been a truly enriching experience. The diverse academic environment has allowed me to explore various subjects and develop a deeper understanding of different cultures. The professors are knowledgeable and passionate, creating a stimulating learning atmosphere. One of the most memorable experiences was the recent IGS potluck lunch. It was fascinating to see how students from different countries approached the concept of national food. While some embraced the opportunity to showcase their culinary traditions, others found creative ways to adapt and share dishes that were both familiar and unique. This event not only highlighted the diversity within our community but also fostered a sense of camaraderie and understanding.”

-Sardor, Uzbekistan

M.I.B. Master of Arts in International Business

Master of Arts in International Education (M.I.E.)

The rapid internationalization of university systems across the globe sees an increasing demand for advanced programs of study that will promote intercultural dialogue by providing course offerings that speak to the domains of research and inquiry, leadership, innovation, and service along with global goals for education, development, and sustainability. The Master of Arts in International Education (M.I.E.) Program prepares future education leaders for shaping vital roles in International Education. Students will follow a range of specializations that lead to careers in: Education Policy and Development; Education Leadership, Administration and Management; and Teaching in traditional and non-traditional school settings. For M.I.E. students who are eligible and pass the requirements, this program also provides the opportunity for them to earn their IB Educator Certificate in Teaching and Learning.

Our Program strives to create an academically rich and rigorous environment that engages students in contemporary and innovative research-based practices and develops internationally minded educators and leaders who embrace a global perspective guided by NSU's mission of addressing the needs of global learners within a culture of caring and kindness.

Successful graduates of the M.I.E. Program may pursue career paths in the following:

- International Educator (Educational Specialist, Academic Counselor, Teacher Trainer)
- Education Policy Analyst (Non-Profit Organizations/NGOs/Government)
- Educational Administrator (School Principal, Director within a school agency)
- Research Assistant (Non-Profit Organizations/NGOs/Government)
- International Teacher in Non-Traditional/traditional school settings
- Educational Consultant (Curriculum Development, Program Development, Teacher Training)

These options may lead to positions in international schools, colleges, or universities; global education agencies; and positions in non-government and government settings.

“The MIE department has knowledgeable, caring, and open-minded professors who perfectly support and guide students to become productive, effective, global educators according to the latest educational global trends. They are very professional in discovering their students’ best traits and building new valuable educational traits. I owe my professors gratitude for my educational skills, and I am so proud to be a Namseoul University IGS student.”

- Aya, Egypt

“My time in the MIE program has been an invaluable asset in my quest of becoming a world class educator. I’ve really appreciated the depth of content and care the professors here put into the classes. There are many opportunities within the field of international education and through its focused and extensive curriculum, the MIE program provides the tools to succeed in that field.”

“I have studied abroad for most of my life, and one of the benefits to this was getting the opportunity to interact with different people and learn a lot of things, but the IGS is by far the best. The professors are extremely helpful, and I was gracefully able to transition from my former studies to the major I dreamt of studying all my life. My expectations were exceeded as I was helped and guided throughout my time here. That is one of the reasons I am recommending all my friends to the IGS and I hope they, too, have the best experience, as I am doing.”

-Christina, Tanzania

“I think the best way of learning is through experience and experimentation. The IGS will be a real-life experience for a student. Our professors guide us, instruct us, and create an environment for enthusiasts to conquer. The learner-centered environment crafted here not only trains us in academics but also motivates us. In addition to this, the serenity of the campus always creates a feeling of peace.”

-Arafat, Bangladesh

Master of Science in Rehabilitation Exercise (M.R.E.)

This department combines manual physical therapy and Pilates to cultivate experts who can effectively enhance movement as well as treatment and prevention of physical ailments to improve health. The curriculum is based on the theoretical and practical courses specialized in physical therapy and Pilates necessary to achieve these educational objectives, and in particular, Pilates certificates are awarded through intensive research and practice related to the convergence of orthopedic manual physical therapy and rehabilitation Pilates to support students in working as specialists. Through this program, you can become a health expert who can contribute to the development of health science in Korea and work at the international level.

Characteristics and Benefits of the Department of Orthopedic Manual Physiotherapy and Contrology

- Curriculum operation is based on clinical reasoning and evidence-based practice, which are the main concepts of rehabilitation.
- Provides excellent curriculum through overseas physical therapy education programs such as the United States, Australia, and specialized Pilates education programs.
- As an orthopedic manual therapy and rehabilitation Pilates specialist, students will be awarded an orthopedic manual therapist certificate and rehabilitation Pilates certificate, which enables you to start a rehabilitation center, Pilates center, and research institute.
 - a. Education methods used in Commonwealth nations for physical therapy are applied, such as team teaching, discussion, and practice through case studies.
 - b. Opportunities to participate in research programs such as seminars, intensive classes, workshops, and joint research in connection with overseas professors are available.

“Studying as an international student at Namseoul University in South Korea has been an incredible experience that provided me with both academic and personal growth. The university’s strong focus on practical learning and international collaboration helped me develop valuable skills that I can use in my future career. As an international student, I was able to connect with classmates from all over the world, making lifelong friendships and learning about different cultures. The professors were supportive and always encouraged me to think critically and creatively. Living in Korea also allowed me to experience the country’s rich culture, try amazing food, and explore beautiful places. The warmth and kindness of the people made me feel welcome, and I learned a lot about myself and the world around me. Overall, my time at Namseoul University has been an unforgettable and rewarding journey that will stay with me forever.”

-Patricia, Philippines

“My experience in the IGS has been transformative, as it has played a pivotal role in solidifying my identity. The program not only honed my academic skills, but also helped me discover my international-mindedness, fostering a global perspective. I wholeheartedly recommend this program to others for its caring and nurturing environment.”
